Jericho's school budget down while others show increases

By Ted Tedford
Special to the Mountain Gazette

Jericho's elementary school budget is the only one of four districts in the northern part of the Chittenden East Supervisory Union that will decrease for the next school year.

Proposed expenditures in the Jericho Town School budget total $3,605,189 or a decrease of $82,415, or 2.23 percent. The teacher salaries line is down slightly with two teachers retiring and two replacements hired at slightly lower salaries.

The School Board anticipates hiring a full-time math and science coach to help students who are falling behind in those subjects, said Susan Lillich, Board chairwoman.

Another reason for the decrease is that one full-time and a half-time teacher aides left the school, because of lower enrollment.

Jericho residents who send their children to the Jericho Elementary School will see their school tax decrease by about $12 per $100 of property assessment. That number depends on a town's Common Level of Appraisal of property and the amount it spends per pupil above the state average homestead tax rate which is expected to increase.

Voters in Jericho discuss and vote on their town and school budgets from the floor. Their Town Meeting will begin at 9 a.m. at the Jericho Elementary School. The School meeting follows after lunch.

UNDERHILL TOWN SCHOOL

Proposed spending in the Underhill Town School District budget shows an increase of $153,706, or 7.3 percent from the present budget of $2,095,597 to $2,239,303.

The largest increase is $53,625 for teacher salaries and FICA, said Peter Geiss, the board's budget expert.

Explaining why teacher salaries will go up this year, Geiss said then-Gov. Douglas asked school boards across Vermont to decrease their budgets by an average of 2 percent in 2010. The Underhill Town School Board froze salaries for this present school year but after the Federal Education Jobs Program was passed by Congress, Vermont received $19 million. The one-time money was unavailable until school boards had already passed their budgets. Subsequently, the supervisory union and the teachers' union agreed to a contract, including a 2.5 percent increase for the present school year and a 2.85 percent raise for 2011-2012.

Underhill Towns Board received federal money for a 2.5 percent raise for teachers and plans a 2.85 percent increase in the new budget, agreed to with the teachers in their latest contract. Other school districts in the supervisory union experienced the same thing.

Underhill Town's share of special education costs are increased $21,764, although the school does not expect more special-education students next school year. Each school district in the supervisory union is assessed a certain amount by the CESU central office.

MOUNT MANSFIELD UNION HIGH SCHOOL

The budget for the Mount Mansfield Union High School district shows an increase of $653,245, up 2.57 percent, to $26,052,065. The budget includes expenditures for Mount Mansfield Union High School, Browns River Middle School and Camels Hump Middle School.

Salaries for teachers are up 2.34 percent to $8,362,727. The board's budget expert, Rep. George Till of Jericho, said the next school year will start with one less teacher. He said the number of middle-school and high-school students has decreased by 160 since 2007-2008. During the same period, he said seven full-time teachers and one part-time teacher have left the system.

Till said special education costs will rise 2.43 percent or $118,060 while transportation services, school buses, will decrease by 10.72 percent or $143,386. Mount Mansfield Union High School district pays 75 percent of the transportation costs while the local districts pay 25 percent. The Transportation item will decrease from $1,337,484 to $1,194,098.

"Overall, I feel pretty good about the budget," Till said. "From a historical perspective the last four years we were up and down. Now, we are pretty much back where we were four years ago."

UNDERHILL I.D. SCHOOL

Voters who live in Jericho and send their children to the Underhill I.D. School will likely see a $14 decrease in their school tax the next school year. Voters who live in the Underhill side of the school district will see theirs go up $7. Their proposed school budget is increased by 4.34 percent - from $1,583,433 to $1,652,226.

School board Chairwoman Valerie Banschbach said teacher salaries will go up $50,860 and school support staff expenditures go up $19,204.

Transportation costs will decrease from $51,221 to $41,283, or 19.4 percent.

Underhill to see write-ins for Selectboard March 6

By Ted Tedford
Special to the Mountain Gazette

No one has filed a petition to run for the Selectboard at Town Meeting March 6 to replace its chairman, Dan Steinbauer who is not running for a third term.

Town Clerk Sherry Morin said the post could be filled by write-in ballots but the highest write-in person must receive at least 26 votes. That's one percent of the total registered voters. Town Meeting is Tuesday March 6.

Vacancies also exist for these town positions: Auditor, three-year term; town agent, one year; grand juror, one year; agent to convey real estate, one year. Normally the town has three auditors, but one post has been vacant for some time. Serving as auditors are Irene Linde and Betsy Page.

A separate ballot item asks voters to eliminate the town auditor positions and replace the auditors with a certified public accountant (CPA). Town Administrator Dawna Brisson said the town hires the services of a CPA at $10,000 while paying the town auditors the same amount.

Rita-Marie C. Greenia has decided not to run again for grand juror, Heather Jacobs is not running again for town agent and Dan Close is not running again as agent to convey real estate. Their terms all expire this March.

Steinbauer said he enjoyed being a selectman and would run again "if I were 10 years younger." He is interim pastor at Good Shepherd Lutheran Church in Jericho and is a part-time counselor.

"I think I got the learning curve down obviously more than I did six years ago," Steinbauer said. "I bring a calm perspective to issues," he added. He served two three-year terms.

The last time there was a write-in contest for the Selectboard was in March 2010 when Selectman Steve Owen missed the deadline for filing a petition for re-election. He defeated Marc Maheux, a former Selectboard chairman, who also was a write-in.

Other items to be voted on by secret ballot are:

Empowering the Selectboard to borrow not more than $190,000 over five years for a new dump truck to replace a 1999 International dump truck.

To spend up to $35,000 to repair and paint the Town Hall roof.

To establish a reserve fund not to exceed 2 percent of the town general and highway budget ($40,000).

To establish a capital reserve fund to pay for items in the Capital Improvement Plan. Not money is being sought this year.

To approve amendments to the Unified Land Use and Development Regulations approved by the Selectboard Jan. 5.

Voters will be asked to vote from the floor on a $2.2 million general and highway budget, up $328,623, or 18 percent from last year.

Take notice stronger handicap parking law in effect

The public is advised that the law has changed regarding people who park in handicap parking places who do not have a right to do so. The law reads as follows: The violator (registered owner of the car) gets the ticket under Title 23 VSA 304 (a) (e). No longer will cities like Rutland simply issue a parking ticket. It will now be a motor vehicle violation under State Law.

(e) A person, other than a person with a disability, who for his or her own purposes parks a vehicle in a space for persons with disabilities shall be fined $271.00 for each violation and shall be liable for towing charges. He or she shall also be liable for storage charges not to exceed $12.00 per day, and an artisan's lien may be imposed against the vehicle for payment of the charges assessed. The person in charge of the parking space or spaces for persons with a disability or any duly authorized law enforcement officer shall cause the removal of a vehicle parked in violation of this section. A violation of this section shall be considered a traffic violation within the meaning of chapter 29 of Title 4.

Jericho Energy task Force to show The Power of the Community

Join the Jericho Energy Task Force at 7:00 PM on March 9 at the Deborah Rawson Memorial Library for a showing of The Power of Community. The movie explores the creativity of the people of Cuba in the 1990s when the collapse of the Soviet Union sent their economy into a tailspin. This film chronicles how people responded when fuel imports were cut by more than 50% and food imports by more than 80%. So often we focus on stories of doom and gloom, said Task Force Movie Night Coordinator Larry Lamb. We decided to choose a movie that focuses on the resiliency of people and their power to overcome tragedy.

The showing of The Power of Community is free of charge and some refreshments will be provided. We'll bring the apple cider but since this is a waste-free event we encourage you to bring your own mugs. Future movies will include Two Angry Moms on April 6 and Bag It on May 4. For more information, contact Larry Lamb at 899-4863 or lblamb@hotmail.com.

- SAFETY MESSAGE: INSTALL SMOKE DETECTORS: Statistics show that more than half of all fire deaths occur in homes with no smoke detectors and nearly three quarters of fire deaths occur in homes without alarms or with non-functioning alarms. By placing smoke detectors in your home, you can increase the chances that all your family gets out safely by 40-50%.
- A few things to keep in mind: One on every level of your home and most importantly in every bedroom. Test them! Make sure batteries are good and that the detector is working properly test them each month. Change batteries twice a year and if you think your detector is not working correctly, replace it. Check the date on the back of the detector and if it is ten or more years old, get a new one.
- Install Carbon Monoxide Alarms; inside your home to provide an early warning of accumulating CO, they should be installed in a central location outside each separate sleeping area. If bedrooms are spaced apart, each area will need a CO alarm. Test your alarms like you do your smoke alarms each month. It is important to know that those CO alarms are not substitutes for smoke alarms, and know the difference between the sound of smoke alarms and CO alarms.
- When in doubt call "911", and do not forget to Practice Fire Safety Every day.

Benefit dance for Shannon (Davis) Patnoe with 50/50 raffle & silent auction

This benefit is to help raise money for a local community member, Shannon (Davis) Patnoe. She has a rare disorder call Lipedematous. Lipedematous is a disease that only 31 people on record have ever been diagnosed with and very little is known about this disorder; let alone how to cure it. So far the doctors have been treating her with different types of chemo-therapy and other trial medications. She and her family have been given a rare opportunity for her to be seen by the doctors at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minnesota. Unfortunately, the cost of the trip there and back and her stay is more than she and her family can afford. We are asking you, as a community, to join us for a fun night of dancing, a silent auction, and a 50/50 raffle. Hamburgers, hot dogs and fries will be available by donation. Admission: $10 donation. Any questions, call (802) 279-6123.

A wet day, just beginning to end now, with the darkening of the already-gray and sodden skies. The two dogs, though, don't seem to mind; we are coming up Tedford's hill on our return trip from the Post Office, and this necessitates several trips to Mill Brook, where the water has broken through the ice in a bubbling tribute to spring. Since they have deserted me, and the road seems clear of cars (where they need a little guidance in vehicular respect), my attention turns to the mail. In general, it is not unusual: solicitations from various organizations, some using the emotional appeal of photos of youngsters with obvious signs of malnutrition, others asking that trees in the Amazon Basin not be cut, and some using the reproachful whine of "We have not heard from you lately". Most of these I have become hardened to, since I have 'a limited budget'.....another way of saying: property taxes, a new roof and some pills that keep my heart beating regularly, (rather like the sound of silver dollars being dropped into the coffers of that drug company).....have taken precedence over most causes.

So I open the Town Report, so I can see how much a new dump truck will cost, what repairs MMUHS will need, and the United Church of Underhill

There are many exciting events coming up at the United Church of Underhill. Unless otherwise noted, all of the events below will take place at the United Church of Underhill, on the green on Route 15 (at the corner of Route 15 and Park Street). All are welcome at the events below, and also at our weekly worship service every Sunday at 10:30AM. Please join us!

Adult Education study opportunity: Amos and Hosea. These Biblical prophets seem so long ago and far away, but in their time, and for us now, they carry a message we all need to hear – a message about God's call to cross the boundaries between "us" and "them" – a message about God's tough love and amazing grace. All are welcome to join us Wednesdays February 29, March 7, 21, and 28 from 6:30-8:30 PM.

Upcoming Free Community Dinners. The next Food for All community supper at the United Church will be held on Thursday March 8 from 5:00 – 7:00 PM. Everyone in our community is invited to come for good food and good conversation with good neighbors. There is no charge for these suppers, although offerings are accepted to benefit the local food shelf. These dinners are an outreach shared with the Calvary Episcopal Church, which hosts its soup-and-bread supper on the last Thursday of the month (the next one is March 29) at its church on Route 15 in Underhill Flats.

Lenten Events: Weekly Lunches and Holy Week services. The season of Lent, leading up to the celebration of Easter, began this year on February 22, Ash Wednesday. See the article by the Jericho-Underhill Clergy Group for the dates and locations of the "Soup and Scripture" series that local clergy are presenting. This information, along with the full schedule of services and events in Lent, is also available at the unitedchurchofunderhill.com website.

One Great Hour of Sharing Breakfast and Offering. The Missions Ministry of the United Church of Christ will sponsor the One Great Hour of Sharing Breakfast and Offering on Sunday, March 18 from 8:00-9:45 a.m. This is an opportunity to share fellowship and to support programs that address disaster relief, fight against hunger and poverty, and other missions throughout the world. Menu will include French toast, sausage, eggs, toast, and "heart healthy" options. Tickets are on sale now and can be purchased in advance or at the door (adults - $6.00, seniors - $5.00, children 3-14 years old - $4.00, under 3 – free, family maximum - $15.00). Be sure to join us for a great breakfast and pleasant company and fellowship before church! Contact Dianne Sisson (899-5051) to reserve a spot.

Opportunity to learn about the Pine Ridge Reservation. Next summer, a group of 15 adults from the United Church of Underhill will be traveling to Pine Ridge, SD to work with the Oglala Lakota Sioux. In order to learn about this reservation and the people who live on it, we invite everyone in the community to join us on Sunday March 25 at 6:00 PM for dessert and a screening of the 2011 20/20 television special: "Children of the Plains." We'd love to have you join us. The cost is free!

If you have questions about the United Church of Underhill or any of these events, you can contact Pastor Kevin Goldenbogen at 899-1722 or find us online at unitedchurchofunderhill.com.

abysmal pay given to the Board of Selectmen. There is a beautiful picture on the front, of Moore Park looking towards the Town Hall. It shows quite plainly how the Sugar Maples that edge the Park have grown. One of them could not stand the water around its feet, and had to be replaced by a Red Maple, which is more accustomed to swamps and poor soils. I smile when I think of that job of converting the old Town Garage, with its salt-soaked parking area that resisted even a pick axe to get softened up and ready for rehabilitation. So I turn the page and am stopped in my tracks. There is a favorite photo of me, sitting in a profusion of Black Eyed Susans and a beautiful dedication, honoring me for being a Community Helper in my years in the Town of Underhill. I am flabbergasted, disbelieving, and somewhat ashamed when I think of all the people to whom this honor should have gone. And, having been partially written by Betty Moore, who knew me a long time ago, it recalls early memories: the first walks along Bear Town Road, over 50 years ago, and stopping by Clip Terrill's house to help with his final illness. (Clip had been the founding owner of the Underhill Store in the Center.) And further up the road, Albert Steinhour, another old resident, who lived with his sisters Jessie and Dulcie, and who nicely let me visit, help, and learn the history of the town. And later, sitting with

"Ski" Beckwith, looking at the view towards Camel's Hump, as the night darkened the sky and his life. What privileges I have had to be a small part of this town!

Please forgive this egocentric listing: I finished a doctorate in education on my 60th birthday. I was a Fulbright Scholar in Zimbabwe for a year. I have worked on some marvelous Boards: Visiting Nurse Association, Planned Parenthood, Lane Series. But these listings will allow me to compare and verify how honored I am by my inclusion in the Town Report. So, I am claiming this public forum to say: this recognition in my town of Underhill has been one of the most precious gifts I have ever received. Thank you!

HEALTH NEWS

Why are feet important?

Mary H Kintner, D.C., R.N.
 What kind of question is that?! As a chiropractor, I find body function is affected by structure. Some signs of foot dysfunction include bunions, hammertoes, neuromas (nerve tissue tumors found between the toes), plantar fasciitis, flat feet and Achilles tendinitis. More often, foot dysfunction causes symptoms elsewhere in the body — most commonly in the knees, hips, low back and neck. The collapsed arches can preload the knee, making injuries more likely. Also, inadequate arch support can cause low back pain. Even your neck and jaw can be influenced by the feet. In Italy, more orthotics are fit by dentists than any other professional group because they know and address the relationship between the feet and jaw. If you consider that the average person walks 5-10,000 steps per day and malfunction can cause structural problems, it is logical to conclude that optimizing foot function is important. So what to do? First, buy good quality shoes. Discount shoes are no bargain if they are not supportive. Shoes must fit — be neither too large nor too small. They must be wide enough, especially at the toes and arches. They need a good heel cup to support your feet while walking. People also tend to keep shoes too long. Some experts state that shoes are “shot” after 250 miles! Worn-out shoes provide no support and may even cause imbalance of the body if the heel is unlevel and/or the arch is collapsed. Another way to protect the feet is to use simple foot exercises, such as picking up a towel with your toes or rolling a golf ball under your arch. For many people, these steps are not enough to prevent foot problems. People who spend much of their time on their feet — factory workers, waitstaff, salespersons, nurses, teachers, etc. — are at special risk. Over time, the elastic tissue of the feet becomes permanently stretched; this is why people “suddenly” need larger shoe sizes. Active people, such as skiers, hikers and tennis players also need additional foot support. Anyone who uses foot beds in their ski boots will need orthotics (specially fitted inserts for shoes that improve the body’s structural balance) — some people will spend money on foot beds for their ski boots, worn sometimes in the winter, and not bother the rest of the time. Another indicator of a need for orthotics is any of these five red flags: foot flare, excessive shoe wear, fallen arches, bowed Achilles tendons, and an inward roll of the knees. In order to address your feet so that they are at your service and not the other way around, I recommend the following steps. First make sure your feet are properly aligned. This may involve manipulation of the feet, knee, pelvis and/or other parts of the spine. It all moves together. Once the joints are aligned, good support may be in order with a quality, custom-made orthotics/foot bed. Orthotics are inserted into footwear to alter the way the foot hits the earth. Good orthotics have heel cups, are flexible enough to maintain normal foot dynamics and support the arches of the feet. It is important that the fitting be performed by an experienced practitioner. Orthotics are particularly important if you are over forty years old because ligaments of your feet become lax and your feet spread causing the arches to collapse. If your feet need evaluation, are hurting and/or you need orthotics, see a professional. Have your feet adjusted and get fitted for orthotics. Take care of your feet and they will take care of you!

Copley Hospital expands Sleep Medicine program

Copley Hospital is expanding its sleep medicine program in collaboration with North Country Hospital. The Northern Vermont Center for Sleep Disorders at Copley, located in the Health Center Building, is open Monday through Friday. Pulmonologist and Medical Director Veronika Jedlovszky, MD and Sleep Medicine specialist David Alsobrook, MD are joined by Innocent Ezenwa, MD and Nurse Practitioner Elaine Robinson. Dr. Ezenwa is board certified in sleep medicine as well as internal medical. He also brings with him extensive training in pediatric sleep medicine. A referral from your doctor to the Northern Vermont Center for Sleep Disorders at Copley is required. While millions of people are affected by sleep disorders, many do not recognize the symptoms, and fewer realize that once detected, most sleep disorders can be corrected. Common symptoms of a sleep disorder are fatigue, depression, irritability, poor concentration and memory loss. Some people may also fall asleep during the day. Not getting enough sleep, night after night, affects your health, your job and your family. Left untreated, a sleep disorder can increase the risk of high blood pressure, heart attack or stroke as well as an accident if you fall asleep while driving. The Center’s experienced team evaluates and provides treatment for the more than 80 different sleep disorders. The most common disorders include sleep apnea, insomnia, narcolepsy, and restless leg/periodic leg movement syndrome. The first step is talking to your doctor about your concerns as you need a referral to the clinic. There, the Center’s team will work with you and your doctor to evaluate your situation and tailor a plan designed for you and you alone. It is the goal of the Northern Vermont Center for Sleep Disorders to help you get a good night’s sleep and return you to a normal, productive lifestyle through the diagnosis and treatment of your sleep disorder. For 80 years Copley Hospital has been providing essential services for our community’s overall health. We are proud of the quality of care that we give and continually monitor our efforts to maintain our high standards of excellence. OBITUARIES

In loving memory of Alex and Dorothy Bachman of Underhill Center, VT and formerly of Dekalb county, Atlanta, GA and Babylon, NY. Alex (1918) and Dorothy (1922) were born in Brooklyn, N.Y. Alex served on a Navy hospital ship, the USS Consolation, during W.W.II as Pharmacist’s Mate, 1st class. He went on to become a clothing buyer for Macy’s NY and Rich’s Georgia. Dorothy passed on her love of crocheting to Alex, who crocheted many Afghans and advanced on to produce beautiful wool needlepoint pictures and finally wool latch hook rugs. They both loved to read and spend time at Lake Parker. Moving to Vermont opened up Alex’s love of flowers and gardening. They will especially be missed by Koko, the very special kitty in their lives. After almost 70 years of marriage, our family laid Alex and Dorothy to rest side by side in their shared plot on Long Island on February 8, 2012, as was their wish. Alex and Dorothy spent their last few days together in a shared room at the Vermont Respite House, where they passed a mere three days apart. Alex passed early Tuesday morning, January 31, 2012, from kidney failure. While Dorothy had sustained several injuries from a car accident on Vermont’s icy roads, her heart was already with Alex in the Respite House, and it was her will to walk with him into the Afterlife that took her to his side. She passed peacefully on Friday February 3, 2012, to join her beloved Alex. They are survived by their daughter, Brenda Faith Hudson and her husband, Robert; grandson, Charles Alexander Hudson and his wife, Michele Williams Hudson, and their two daughters, Sierra Faith and Alexandra Joy. One of the family’s greatest blessings is that Alex and Dorothy were able to meet their great-granddaughters, particularly Alexandra, Alex’s namesake, who was born on December 29, 2011. While we will greatly miss them, their loving lessons will live on, and we are comforted to know that they are together and in peace. Memorial donations may be made to Vermont Respite House or Best Friends Animal Society.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Thank youTo the Editor

Personnel from the Underhill-Jericho Fire Dept and the Cambridge Fire Dept responded on February 3, 2012 when I fell and fractured my leg at Nebraska Notch. This community is so fortunate to have such a skilled group of professional responders who worked to get me treated and transported out to the ambulance. Thank you so much to all of these dedicated and compassionate responders.

Sincerely

Road CongestionLetter to the Editor,

I'm confused about the "4 groups formed to devise plans for Riverside-Flats area changes" article published in The Mountain Gazette, February 16, 2012. What are the towns trying to do? If the goal is to move traffic through smoother, faster, slower – what?

Being a State road shouldn't the State be solving any problems? If the goal is to move the traffic through smoothly that is simple problem with a simple solution. Most of the structure is already in place. They will just need to be enhanced.

Move the traffic onto River Road in front of Jolley's to a one way with two lanes, the right lane making right turns into schools or the library and the left lane going straight. River Road becomes two ways at Park Street. Dickenson stays a one way with a left turn only.

Park Street at Route 15 becomes a traffic circle. East bound traffic continues unimpeded around the circle to the east. West bound traffic from Cambridge and Park Street continues around the circle and to the west toward Jolley's; east bound traffic to Park Street comes off to the right. We already have a circle of sorts with the green.

I realize that most people don't know how to merge into a traffic circle to keep the traffic flowing, e.g. Winooski, but they can learn.

Another solution would be to have a traffic light at the intersection of Park and Rot. 15 for west bound traffic. Make River Road two lanes one way (east) up to Park Street – left lane turns left on Park, right lane goes straight.

Write-in Seth Friedman for selectboardLetter to the Editor

The Town of Underhill is fortunate to have a superbly qualified candidate, Seth Friedman, running for the Selectboard as a write-in candidate to replace Dan Steinbauer who decided not to run this year. Seth has lived in Underhill on Pleasant Valley Road for the past 12 years with his wife and now a young son. He is a successful self-employed businessman with a solid understanding of finance and budgeting. He has always had an active interest in serving the Town with a firm commitment to community, measured growth, and thoughtful protection of the natural environment. Everyone who has worked with Seth knows him as an intelligent, conscientious, fair-minded person who listens receptively to all points of view and is willing to look for compromise when opinions differ. He is an ideal person to help guide our town during difficult financial times, and to make wise decisions that could affect all of us for years to come. We urge you to write in the name Seth Friedman on the Select Board ballot at town meeting.

Support Seth FriedmanTo the Editor:

I wish to urge the voters of the Town of Underhill to support Seth Friedman as a write-in candidate for the town Selectboard during the upcoming election March 6th.

Seth and I have had many discussions over the years about local news and town-wide issues. I believe he has the perspective and depth of knowledge necessary to serve our community quite well. Seth's engaging style, integrity, and interest in a variety of local concerns would add depth to the issues facing our Selectboard and the citizens of our community.

Seth is an avid outdoorsman, husband, entrepreneur, and father, with a keen ear and creative mind that would serve The Town of Underhill quite well.

Please write in Seth Friedman for Selectboard this Town Meeting Day.

Write in Marc MaheuxTo the Editor,

To the residents of Underhill

I would like to suggest that we consider writing in the name of Marc Maheux to serve us for the next three years. I have known Marc for at least 40 years and have worked beside him at the UJFD. I have also seen how his expertise has paid off with his service to the Jericho-Underhill Water Department for the last 35 years as well as wanting nothing but the best quality of water for the residents served by that district. Marc also ran a very successful heating and refrigeration business for nearly 30 years that he started from scratch and made himself available 24/7 to his customers of which I was one of those customers. He has also worked tirelessly along with Ed Moore on the mapping of the cemeteries of Underhill, and both of these men Marc and Ed donate their time and expertise doing a wonderful job.

Marc has also served our Town on the Board of Selectmen for a 3 year term and is once again willing, when no one else was, to have his name written in for a 3 year term.

So I have been thinking, why would I or anyone else in this Town want to vote for Marc Maheux. Back about 5 or 6 years ago when Marc was Selectman, he encouraged the Town to replace the existing sidewalks along Park Street and VT Route 15 to Poker Hill Road. He had the project ready to go, had outside funding for at least 80%... and that was five years ago! I don't know about you, but I have been a resident of this Town (and the last house in the town next to it) for over 70 years, I am embarrassed to have 20,000 people come here for Harvest Market and not have a side walk fit for them to walk on! When I grew up in this Town 70 years ago...we had a side walk and we sure as the world all know that walking along Route 15 is taking your life in your own hands and why someone has not been killed or seriously injured is beyond me.

So, I emailed Marc Maheux and asked him if he was still in favor of sidewalks in Underhill and he stated, "As far as the sidewalk goes, I believe the board has just tabled the idea. The planning phase was done while I was on the board. To continue the project final design and bidding needs to be done. I believe the regional planning still has a grant program that pays 80% of sidewalk cost. Anyhow I believe there is enough interest from the residents to go forward with the project."

So I say, lets vote for sidewalks in Underhill, write in Marc Maheux.

Thank you,
Randy H. Clark

LEGISLATIVE REPORT

Notes from MontpelierBy Rep. Bill Frank

Town meeting is next Tuesday morning, March 6 in Underhill and Jericho and Monday evening in Bolton. I hope to see many of you at these meetings. Australian ballot takes place all day Tuesday, please stop by and vote. And don't forget to attend your school's annual meetings.

Last week the House passed a bill that sets up a Vermont health benefits exchange. The health exchange will allow consumers to compare insurance products through a standardized portal starting in 2014. I refer to the health exchange as a market place where consumers and employers can shop for health insurance with multiple options. I refer to the portal as the Travelocity of health insurance, a place where we can compare the different options and prices. Using the exchange, middle class Vermonters will be able to access new tax credits and subsidies that will make their health coverage more affordable.

The health exchange is part of our overall program of real health reform in Vermont. It is also a requirement of the federal Affordable Care Act of 2010. The ACA requires states to create a health exchange or have the federal government do it for them. Using an $18 million federal grant we will design and set up a health exchange that is best for Vermonters. The ACA requires that the same plans are offered inside the exchange as would be offered outside the exchange. It is expected that at least ten different plans, including high deductible plans will be in the exchange.

A small business employer (50 or less employees) will be able to use the exchange to purchase health insurance for their employees, but it is voluntary that they offer health insurance for employees, i.e. there is no penalty to a small employer who does not offer health insurance. A small employer who doesn't want to buy an insurance product offered in the exchange for their employees can set up a cafeteria plan, gives their employees a contribution and sends the employee to the exchange.

This allows the business to have 100% control over their year to year health care costs. This also gives the employee the portability and security that they will not lose the insurance if they change jobs.

The House Health Care committee has a web site with all the documents they used to develop the bill. The site link is at leg.state.vt.us on the right side of the home page.

The House passed a bill that will allow 16 year olds to give blood. Currently in Vermont one must be 17 in order to give blood. By making this change we can increase the pool of possible blood donors and help alleviate the frequent shortages in the blood supply. And the House passed a bill that designates skiing and snowboarding as the Vermont official winter state sports.

Bryan Memorial Gallery presents a Trains Collectors Roundtable discussion as a featured program of its current exhibit, All Aboard: An Exhibition of Trains.

The Collectors Roundtable will feature these panelists: Author Robert C. Jones; A.J. McDonald, executive director of the St. Albans Historical Museum; train collector Dave Myers, train collector Shaun Phillips and exhibit curator Fiona Cooper Fenwick. The panel will be moderated by Bryan Memorial Gallery Executive Director, Mickey Myers.

The collectors will discuss their respective lifetimes of experience as railroad aficionados and collectors, bringing their expertise to bear on the universal fascination with trains, and the specifics of collecting train objects.

All Aboard in Bryan Memorial Gallery's East Gallery includes model trains, toy trains, historical train objects and an extensive presentation of the train in fine art and videos. Curated by Fiona Cooper Fenwick, with assistance from Marclay Davis, All Aboard amasses a vast cross section of railroad culture and imagery, from actual objects from the earliest days of the railroad in Vermont, to model trains and toy trains, and a significant collection of the train in fine art and photography today.

This program is supported in part by a grant from the Green Mountain Fund of the Vermont Community Foundation. There is no charge for this program and no charge for the exhibit. The gallery is open Friday - Sunday, 11:00 AM - 4:00 PM and by appointment at any time. Bryan Memorial Gallery is at 180 Main Street, Jeffersonville, Vermont. 802-644-5100. www.bryangallery.org. School groups are welcome to request appointments for private tours of the exhibition on weekdays at no charge. Contact: Mickey Myers, Executive Director, 802-644-5100, mickey@bryangallery.org.

Shelburne Players has chosen a cast and begun rehearsals for their upcoming spring comedy "Lend Me a Tenor" by Ken Ludwig; members of the cast include Matthew Winston, John Hasen and Michael Farnsworth, all of Shelburne, Rachel Newman of Burlington, Clem Turmel and Jennifer Dion Stearns of Milton, Alise Certa of Westford, and Anne Liske of Winooski. As Saunders, the show's presenter, conspires to cover for Tito's absence, placate his hot-blooded wife, and distract his most passionate fans, chaos on a truly operatic level ensues. Directed by Dick Hibbert, "Lend Me A Tenor" will be performed at Shelburne Town Center, 5420 Shelburne Road, on April 20, 21, 22, 26, 27 and 28. Check www.shelburneplayers.com for more information.

VTANG and The University of Vermont's College of Engineering and Mathematical Sciences--Engineer's Day: Many BRMS students participated in this competition. We recognize the teams who took home the following honors:

Edible Cars--Second place: Matthew Eells, Ethan Howard, Katie Genest, and Silas Diamond

Passive Helicopters--Unique Design: Kenny Reynolds and Adakin Sawyer

Smart Phone Design--First Overall and Best Overall Design: Justin Haenel and Jack Leach

Congratulations to all of our student participants and to their advisors Willie Lee and Suzanne McDevitt.

Nine young ladies from the BRMS Girls' Basketball team brought cookies and a giving spirit to the Green Mountain Nursing Home where they not only lifted the spirits of the elderly residents, but touched the hearts of those parents who had the opportunity to watch their children step outside themselves to brighten the lives of others. Thank you Scott Shamp and Shelley Salzer for putting this project together and giving the girls a chance to see what winning is really all about.

BRMS seventh graders will be finishing up their exploration of French when they return to school in March. It is wonderful to see the students so enthusiastic about learning another language. Spanish is the next language we will explore in EFL. French I students are beginning work on the vocabulary and structures for shopping for food.

Looking to start, finish, and/or publish your story? Come to writing club on Tuesdays and Thursdays after-school from 2:45-3:30 in the library. We want to support and encourage you to see your book in print. The month of March is a perfect time to get published!

Are you a girl in 6th grade interested in science and technology? Would you like to learn how girls are selected for this IBM Science & Technology Camp for Girls? Find out more about this week of hands-on science activities and how girls come together for a year-long e-mentoring project. Come and hear from girls who have attended the camp on Tuesday, March 13 at 7:30-8:00 AM in the BRMS library.

Caring at Home

You know how sometimes things seem to come in bunches? Around here lately, it has been meeting with families providing care at home. Partners, spouses, adult children, and even a really nice neighbor, each working to help someone they care about stay home a little longer in spite of challenges.

Where can these folks look for support? For starters, there are some basics like calling the Vermont Senior Help Line at 800-642-5119 and the United Way's 211 service information line. Both these numbers should be on the refrigerator or next to the phone. (Is there still a spot that is "next to the phone"?) They provide information about options beyond the family/friends/church network.

There's also transportation to consider. After all, being able to stay home shouldn't mean having to stay home. Whether it is public transportation, a motor pool or cab fare, planning for mobility is a key component of sustainability.

For most families, the hardest part is getting ahead of things. Just like child-proofing a house, aging in place requires being ready for next week, rather than catching up with last week. This is especially true with issues of increasing frailty. Replacing the tub with a walk-in shower before it is needed beats discovering at seven some morning that the tub is no longer manageable.

The house needs to be made/kept safe, often in ways that aren't as obvious as we might think. That's why the Fall Prevention Clinic is another important number, 802-847-1902. Remember, falling is a huge factor in sending people out of their homes and into continuing care facilities.

Beyond the house there are schedules to consider, yours, mine, and theirs. The kind of cooperation that keeps things manageable takes planning and, well, cooperation. Set manageable expectations for both those giving care and those receiving it. Be realistic about what can be done within the free support system and what will need to be paid for.

Finally, always have a plan for respite breaks for care providers. Without reasonable rest and rejuvenation, things cannot be sustainable. If the care provider is broken, who will provide the care? Taking a break isn't being selfish, it's being real.

The list of things to consider is long enough to make a small book. A useful place to start might be the Mature Market Institute's "Aging in Place Workbook: Your Home as a Care Setting." If you'd like a free copy just give us a call (toll free) at 866-342-2035 and we'll send it to you, along with a list of Aging in Place resources.

Oh, yes, did I mention getting your legal documents in line, too? Well, maybe another time.

Aging in Place, it doesn't happen by accident.

Scott Funk is Vermont's leading Aging in Place advocate, writing and speaking around the state on issues of concern to retirees and their families. He works as a HECM reverse mortgage consultant. You can access previous Aging in Place articles at vermontfunk.com.

March is National Colorectal Cancer Awareness Month

The American Cancer Society is encouraging everyone to make a point to learn their family history of colon cancer, and reminding men and women 50 and older to get tested for the disease even if they have no family history. The Society is making it easier than ever to learn about your family history of colon cancer with the Family PLZ! campaign.

Colorectal cancer is highly treatable if found in its early stages. Most people should start getting screened for colorectal cancer at age 50, but people with a family history are at higher risk and may need to be screened earlier.

The Family PLZ! campaign, developed by the National Colorectal Cancer Roundtable for which the Society is a founding member, provides tools to help you search and share your family history of colorectal cancer with your doctor and loved ones. The campaign encourages younger generations to participate in the discussions. Visit www.familyplz.org for more information.

"The Family PLZ! campaign is a great way for families to start a conversation about a family history of colorectal cancer," said Kelly Stoddard, vice president of Health and Advocacy Initiatives with the American Cancer Society. "Make a point to learn your family's colorectal cancer history, and tell your doctor what you learn."

An estimated 143,460 cases of colorectal cancer are expected to occur in 2012, but there are steps you can take every day to stay well and reduce your risk of colon cancer. The American Cancer Society recommends that adults maintain a healthy weight by being physically active and eating a well-balanced diet. Limiting the amount of alcohol and limiting intake of processed and red meats are also steps you can take every day to reduce your risk of this disease.

Screening for colorectal cancer has been proven to reduce deaths from the disease both by decreasing the number of people who are diagnosed with it and by finding a higher proportion of cancers at early, more treatable stages. Overall, colorectal cancer rates have declined rapidly in both men and women in the past two decades, due in part to early detection and removal of precancerous polyps. However, only half of the U.S. population aged 50 and older have been tested.

The American Cancer Society is making progress against colorectal cancer and is saving lives. Society-funded research has led to improved understanding regarding the link between diet and colorectal cancer, and the development of drugs to treat colorectal cancer. In addition, the Society and its advocacy affiliate, the American Cancer Society Cancer Action NetworkSM, are working to ensure that all Americans who need colorectal cancer testing and treatment have access to them.

The American Cancer Society combines an unyielding passion with nearly a century of experience to save lives and end suffering from cancer. As a global grassroots force of more than three million volunteers, we fight for every birthday threatened by every cancer in every community. We save lives by helping people stay well by preventing cancer or detecting it early; helping people get well by being there for them during and after a cancer diagnosis; by finding cures through investment in groundbreaking discovery; and by fighting back by rallying lawmakers to pass laws to defeat cancer and by rallying communities worldwide to join the fight. As the nation's largest non-governmental investor in cancer research, contributing more than $3.5 billion, we turn what we know about cancer into what we do. As a result, about 11 million people in America who have had cancer and countless more who have avoided it will be celebrating birthdays this year. To learn more about us or to get help, call us any time, day or night, at 1-800-227-2345 or visit cancer.org.

Natural gas is coming to Richmond!

Rebates and low interest financing

If you need new equipment or wish to upgrade, the energy efficiency programs of Vermont Gas, together with Efficiency Vermont, offer rebates up to $1,000 (or low-interest loans) for switching to high efficiency home and water heating equipment.

We're scheduling our construction right now, so there's no reason to wait.

If you sign up by May 1st we'll give you six months free rental on a water heater or conversion burner, plus a free chimney liner
